BILL TO PRODUCE REVENUE

Coolidge Expected to Sign Bill Although He Vetoed Previous Measure

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—By a vote of 69 to 12 the Senate today approved the conference report on the postal pay bill and the measure was sent to the White House for the signature of the President.

Senators who voted against the conference report were Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, Bruce of Maryland, Dial of South Carolina, George of Georgia, Glass of Virginia, Harrison of Mississippi, Howell of Nebraska, Norbeck of South Dakota, Pittman of Nevada, Swanson of Virginia and Underwood of Alabama.

TO PROVIDE REVENUE.

They based their objections largely on the contention that most of the revenue to be derived from advancing the postal rates to meet the increased pay of the postal employes, will fall either directly or indirectly on the farmers

As passed the measure is expected to produce about $61,000,000 additional revenue annually for the Post-office Department, while the proposed increases to employes, it is estimated, will aggregate $66,000,000.

Senate leaders predicted that President Coolidge will sign the bill, although he vetoed the measure providing for increased pay to the postal employes passed at the last session of Congress.

Fine Arts Palace On World's Fair Grounds Granted To San Francisco

Efforts in Congress to save the Palace of Fine Arts have met with signal success, according to telegraphic advices received by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce from Lewis E. Haas, Washington representative of the Chamber, to the effect that the Senate yesterday favorably passed the bill introduced by Senator Hiram Johnson, giving the palace and the site it occupies in San Francisco.

A telegram was also received by Mark I. Sullivan from Senator Johnson, stating that the senator is making every effort to have the matter taken up in the House so that some difficulty may be experienced because of the rush of the session.

Cooperating with Theodore Hardee, executive secretary of the Exposition Preservation league, the Chamber of Commerce yesterday telegraphed its Washington representative to enlist the support of Congressman J. H. McLafferty and John C. Raker to obtain action in the House during the present session of Congress.

Under the provisions of this bill the Palace of Fine Arts, which stands on Presidio grounds, will be ceded to the city for educational, art and exposition purposes. The war department is authorized to deed the site to San Francisco upon the granting by the city to the department of an irrevocable right of way for the operation of a spur track from Fort Mason to the Presidio.

The city, under the bill, is given until July 1, 1927, to grant this right of way, in the mean time being allowed the use of the palace. In the event that the grant is not made within the time designated the building and site will revert to the war department.

ASSESSMENTS INCREASED ON OIL IN COUNTY

Assessments on oil in Contra Costa county will be increased approximately 25 per cent this year, according to Assessor George O. Meese, who returned yesterday from Fresno announcing an assessment schedule agreed upon at the convention of the San Joaquin Valley Assessors' association. The assessment increase follows increased prices in oil.

According to Meese the new schedule on oil of 20.9 gravity and under is 60 cents against 48 cents last year. Oil over 20.9 to 26.9 gravity will be assessed at 67 1-2 cents against 53 cents last year, and oil over 26.9 gravity will be assessed at 75 cents against 58 cents in 1924.

Pipe line and station assessments will remain the same as in 1924 the figures follow:

Pipe Lines—6 inch, $1600 per mile; 8 insh, $3300 per mile; 10 inch, $4000 per mile and 12 inch, $4500 per mile.

Stations—Full station, $45,000; double station, $50,000; half station, $25,000.

Assessments on horse and cattle 25 per cent with the exception of dairy stock, remains the same. Diary stock is reduced from $40 to $35.

An increase of 50 per cent is made on grains, compensurate with price increases of the last year. Hay is listed at a small reduction.

Automobile assessments will remain at approximately the same figure.

Assessments are agreed upon by the San Joaquin county assessors in conjunction with Meese since the interests of the counties are largely identical and uniform assessment basis is desirable.

Meese has been attending the convention for the last two days.

INCOME TAX REDUCTION IS NOT PROVIDED

LEADERS DECLARE NO DEFINITE FIGURES AVAILABLE UNTIL END OF FISCAL YEAR

(By Universal Service.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—No 25 per cent that reduction in income rates this year on last year's income will be provided by congress before the present session is adjourned, March 4, leaders announced today.

Bills providing this reduction had been introduced by Representative Ackerman of New Jedsey and Fairchild of New York, both republicans. This movement was based on the recent statement of Chairman Green fo the Ways and Means Committee, sponsor of a similar reduction last year, that it had cost only $100,000,000 in revenue instead of $232,000,000 as originally estimated. If there is a balance of $132,000,000, Ackerman and Fairchild thought, another $100,000,000 of it might be passed along to the taxpayers.

The leaders declared, however, there were no definite figures available as yet and will not be until the end of the fiscal year, June 30. Moreover, they emphasized, it would be well nigh impossible to get through such a measure in the short time remaining before congress must adjourn.

The new organization will provide loans to salaried people as well as handle other kinds of financial conveniences and Richards, who is widely known in this vicinity, has been working on the plan for the past six months and will head the company. The new financial organization will aim to build a number of improvements upon the plans followed by the well known Morris plan loan organization.

Associated as director in the management will be T. M. Carlson, D. Richards, Jr., and E. R. Fling. According to Richards the company will begin organization very shortly and will be capitalized for $50,000. Temporary offices will be at 913 Macdonald avenue.

The Industrial Finance company will have as its chief purpose the making of loans to salaried people at small interest rates, and in a town such as Richmond with its large number of salaried people the success of the company will be assured.

Local financiers declare that the new company will keep much money in Richmond which has hitherto gone to loan agencies in San Francisco and other cities by means of their purpose policy of handling installment contracts for local business houses doing an installment business. Merchants will thus be enabled to use the money tied up in installment contracts for immediate purposes.

He has been engaged in real estate, insurance and allied lines of business during that time and he will be able to give the new organization the benefit of his long acquaintance with the local business matters.

The Board of Directors of the Carquinez Golf Club met for a business session at the Elk's Temple last night. Grant Miner, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Dr. U. S. Abbott, who has been ill for some time.

It was decided to commence work on the next nine holes of the golf course immediately. The construction will be under the supervision of Grant Miner, who states that the course will be a permanent thing as the lease on the grounds runs for twenty years.

The directors announce that there seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the eligibility of members families to play on the golf course. They announced that a member's wife, children, or anyone dependent upon the member may play free of charge. It is also rumored that the lease on the Carquinez course is only for five years but the directors declare that it is for a full twenty years.

According to reports, new members are coming into the club in large numbers and there are only a few memberships left. When the total number of members reaches 300 the membership will close. This action is in accordance with the by-laws of the club and is for the convenience of the members.

Miner stated last night that the preliminary plans for the club-house have been accepted and that the bids for the construction will be let in the very near future.

It was announced that Frank Novak golf professional at the club, is in charge from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and is renting and selling a full line of golf supplies. He is also giving instructions in the game to those who desire such service.

From 100 to 150 people are taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the Carquinez club and the directors declare that to enjoy the game it is necessary to arrive at the links at an early hour.

PUMP CHAMBER CONTRACT IS OPEN FOR BID

Plans are now available to contractors at the office of the City Engineer and at the Builders' Exchange for the construction of a reinforced concrete fire pump chamber under Municipal wharf No. 1. No parts of the contract will be segregated as the work calls for a lump sum bid and all bids must be in the city engineer's office before 10 o'clock a. m. on March 9. Setting of equipment and installing the pipe lines to connect with the existing lines will be included in the bid. City Engineer E. A. Hoffman has the awarding of the bids in his hands.

State Diamond Jubilee Fete Preparations Gain Headway

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—The celebration of California's diamond jubilee in San Francisco will start on Saturday, September 5th and continue with a variety of spectacles, until the night of Saturday, September 12. The executive committee of the Diamond Jubilee organization made this decision today and announced that no change in the date fixed would be contemplated.

The decision was announced after a conference held to discuss the conflict in dates between San Francisco's jubilee celebration and the state fair at Sacramento. Negotiations are now under way to avoid this conflict if possible. It is suggested that the state fair, like every other function to be held in the state this year, be made an integral part of California's diamond Jubilee celebration.

ADMISSION DAY CLIMAX

The period set for San Francisco's jubilee festival, which will mark the climax of a statewide celebration, covers Labor Day, September 7, and Admission Day, September 9. The celebration will reach its climax Admission Day, which this year marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of California's admission to statehood.

Featuring the American naval display in San Francisco bay, will be flights over San Francisco by the giant dirigibles Shenandoah and Los Angles and airplane squadrons comprising every type of plane. During the week of the celebration it is expected representative units of practically all the great fleets of the world will be congregated in the bay.

It is intended that the roster of California's guests during the State's Diamond Jubilee in San Francisco shall include an imposing list of world famous names. Invitations have been sent to President Coolidge to fly to San Francisco on the Shenandoah or Los Angeles. Should the President acquiesce to this suggestion, which was made in a resolution passed by the San Francisco board of supervisors, his trip westward will be an historical event and unique.

LOAN COMPANY PROPOSED HERE BY BUSINESSMEN

With the object of making loans to salaried people, automobile loans, etc., a new finance company will be formed here by a group of local business men, including Fred B. La Moine, S. Clark, Joseph L. Reed, T. H. DeLap and A. S. Ferrer, it was learned yesterday.

Joseph L. Reed will act as manager of the company and the offices will be located in the establishment of S. S. Clark at 715 Macdonald avenue.

The chief function of the company will be to make loans to salaried people at a small rate in interest and according to local business men the need of such an organization has long been felt in Richmond. The high character of the other business men who are to be connected with the finance company is such as to assure the success of the organization according to officials.

Reed, the new manager, has had several years experience in organizations of this type and was formerly well connected in Chicago where he is a member of a prominent family.

Several years banking and finance experience are credited to Clark, who will be active in the management of the company, and he was at one time connected with a similar organization in Fresno, which he assisted in organizing.

Startling Charges Made Before Senate Foreign Relations Committee

BILL WOULD PROHIBIT ACTION

Diplomacy in Latin-American Countries Called Shameful Conquest of People

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The military forces of the United States have been pledged to make war upon Latin-American countries at the call of American bankers under the terms of private financial agreements approved by the State department, according to charges made today to the senate foreign relations committee by Dr. Ernest H. Gruening, publicist.

Speaking in favor of the Ladd resolution, which would prohibit the use of the army or navy to guarantee foreign loans, Dr. Gruening said:

"Your diplomacy in the Latin-American countries is a shameful record of conquest, unknown to the American people.

FORCES USED FOR BANKERS

"We intervened in Nicaragua to protect the financial investments of Brown Brothers and J. and W. Seligman, bankers. The state department negotiated loans in Peru and guaranteed collections for the Guaranty Trust company. The Marines have been in Santo Dominico for eight years merely to protect the private investments of Speyer and company and the Equitable Trust company. In Bolivia, we have guaranteed the loans made by the Equitable Trust company and in Salvador by F. J. Lisman and company.

MILITARY FORCES PROMISED

Within two years, the New York financial interests have negotiated a $40,000,000 bond issue for Haiti, which pays them a dividend of 8 per cent on a railroad which has never been operated, and which provides that the American military forces shall intervene at any time in the next thirty years that Haiti swerves one inch from the terms of that loan. The state department approved that contract. America is being led into the path of imperialism by private financial agreements, approved by the state department without the knowledge or consent of the Senate."

Fred LaMoine Is Elected Head of County Druggists

Sixteen pharmacists of Contra Costa county met at dinner Wednesday evening at Martinez and formed the Contra Costa County Pharmaceutical Association, electing F. B. LaMoine, of Richmond, as president. Other officers elected were George P. Keller, vice president, and Miss Lulu di Betta, secretary. They are both of Martinez.

Several prominent San Francisco and Oakland druggists were in attendance at the meeting which was held in Dominick's Grill, among them being Bruice Phillips and wife of Fruitvale, representing the Alameda County Phormaceutical Association, and J. Allen of the Stirring Rod Co., Richard Reiss and James Hannah of San Francisco.

Other members of the profession from the county who were present were W. A. Sears, Jr., Martinez; T. J. Wiget, Walnut Creek; E. B. Hagin, Crockett; L. M. Mangini and C. W. Blein, Concord, and John A. McDonald, Danville.

READ THE NEWSPAPERS

Readiness in conversation is an important factor in helping people toward success. Those who can talk intelligently on general topics make a favorable impression. Those who are at a loss for well formulated thoughts, are apt to give people the idea that they do not know much.

It is interesting to see how two men will often flounder around for subjects of conversation. They meet, say they are glad to see each other, and if no exciting theme is in anyone's mind at the time, they are frequently stuck for subjects to talk about. Very likely they have to fall back on the weather. After they have examined that threadbare subject thoroughly, their conversational powers are exhausted. They feel embarrassed for lack of further material for talk. Probably each one thinks what a dull fellow the other one is.

But it these men are careful newspaper readers, one of them will probably introduce some subject that has just been featured in the news. If the other is equally well read, he will give his impressions.

The habit of thorough newspaper reading promotes reflection, and these men will have their own orignial interpretations of current events, which will interest each other. After a good session of talk, thy separate, each of them pleased with himself for having talked well, and impressed by the idea that the other fellow is an intelligent man.

The ambitious young fellow, as a result of reading the Grit Advocate and other newspapers is able to make a favorable impression on the people he meets, through the increased inteligence which comes from following current news. This helps him in making business friends. Young women also find that they get along better in both business and society, when they known what is going on in the world—Julesburg (Colo.) Grit-Advocate.

A NEW MEASURE OF TIME

International business in the subject of calendar reform will probably be considered by the Council of the International Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting in Paris.

After much discussion and consideration by a special committee of the League of Nations, co-operating with representatives of the Christian chlrches, the question has been reduced to two alternatives. These are:

The division of the year into four quarters, each of 30, 30, and 31 day months, with different day names for each of the 91 dates;

The division of the year into 13 equal months of four weeks, each day name being the same for the 28 days.

According to the latter arrangement, Sunday would always be the first day of the week, Easter, Whitsuntide, and other religious feast days would be fixed; Easter coming on Sunday, April 15. The extra month would be Solstice, the seventh of the year. Christmas would always fall on Tuesday, December 25.

Which of the proposed plans American business shall favor is one of the questions to be taken up at the forth-coming meeting of the International Chamber.

The time saved under the thirteenth month plan, it is asserted, would mean a saving of hundreds of millions of dollars, but it would introduce confusion into family records of birthdays and wedding days and necessitate the conversation of statistical records of the past to the 13-month scheme for purposes of comparison.

A PROGRAM IN CONSERVATION

Representatives of all interests, large and small, are invited to attend a conference in Washington during February to discuss future plans and problems of the industry.

Secretary Work says that the oil industry must largely determine its own future. "But," he added, "when its welfare is so closely linked with the industrial prosperity of the whole, government and business might very properly join forces in working out this problem in practical conservation."

Some of the most important points to be raised are; With the modern facilities for finding oil and the production of oil at an unprecedented rate, how can the "breaks" be put on the "bringing in" of new polls and uneeded production? What can be done in explorations without exploitation until market demands warrant new production? How can the government and the industry best cooperate to encourage the creation of drillitgsted reserves to be opened only as needed through delay production? How can development be slowed down on government and privately owned lands to meet only th actual demands?

JUDGING RADIO PROGRAMS

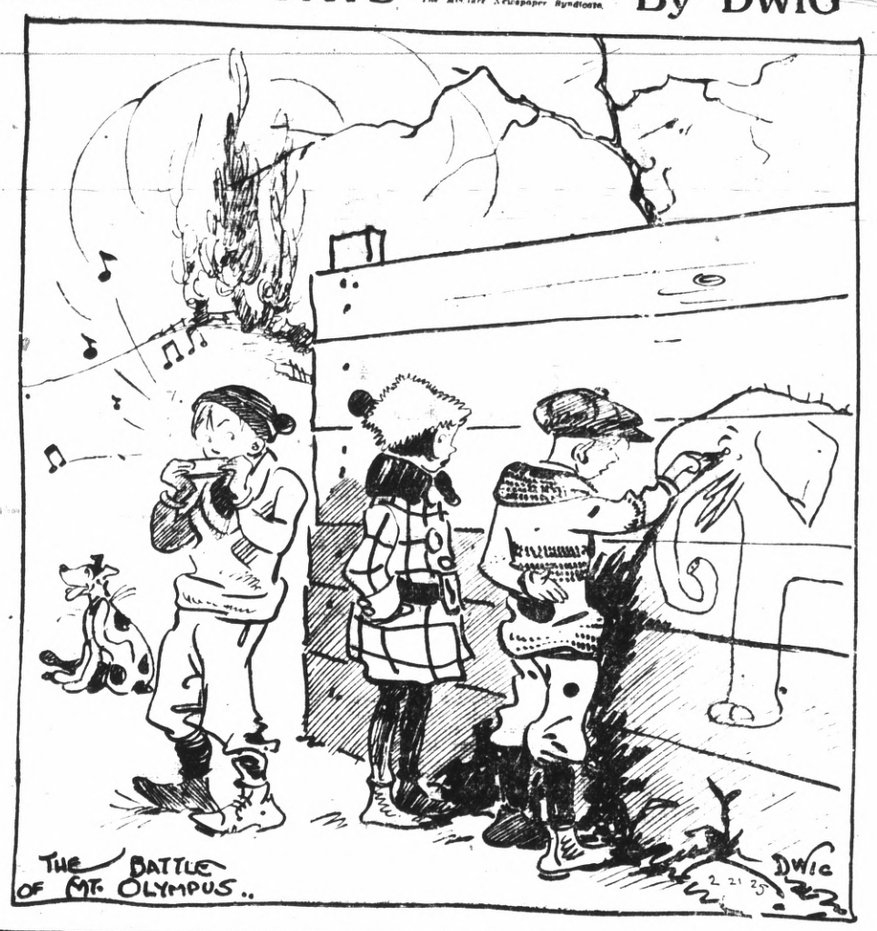

Too often. when judging radio broadcast programs, especially music, amateur critics do not take into consideration the difference in reception of the various radio sets. It is too often assumed that everybody listening in hears the same sounds, which is by no means the case.

A few grains of dust in a tube socket, a loose connection in the wiring, an unfortunately directed aerial, or batteries too nearly discharged, may turn a fine performance into what sounds like a poor one.

However, the interest in radio continues to increase by leaps and bounds. During 1920, sales of radio sets and parts totaled $2,000,000; by 1924, they reached $400,000,000; and it is the opinion of experts that sales this year will approximate $500,000,000 or more.

In one Middle Western state alone, 7,500 farmers have installed radio receiving sets.

One Scarf Around Your Neck and One Around Your Hat is the New Fashion.

THIS is a season of sets—sets consisting of hat and scarf, hat and belt, hat and scarf and purse, hat and gloves. But chiefly hat and scarf. It is all part of the present tendency to carry out the ensemble idea in women's clothes.

Quite often this idea of selling a hat and scarf or purse or belt or wrap or frock to match has begun to do a rare business. Having persuaded a customer to buy a certain hat, it is not very difficult further to persuade her to buy the scarf or purse or other trifle that has been made to go with it. Of course it is not necessary to buy both oh, dear, no but when the effect is so charming when the set is worn it does seem worth while.

Jane Blanchot, it seems, is the most generally associated with the idea of hat and scarf set. And now it is possible for the woman who trims her frocks at home to buy sets consisting of scarf with material to match suitable for trimming the hat, or otherwise carrying out the design of the scarf. A good plan is to drape the hat with the scarf and then use the matching material to form the lining of the coat worn with the hat, or to use the matrial for hat drapery and then use the scarf attached with which the hat is worn.

Scarf hats are a novelty of the season. With them a rather simple shape is chosen is chosen and the scarf is attached to it by means of tiny snappers. A charming set of hat and scarf consists of a black straw shape trimmed with red ribbon, and a scarf consisting of black ribbon trimmed with one bright red flower at the back. A charming cloche shape is covered with hand-block printed crepe in sunset tones with a generous scarf of crepe hand blocked in the same tones. A little pull-on shape made of woven blue and white silk has a belt also made of the some woven silk.

Smart women choose their accessories in matching sets. In the sketch are shown a hand-woven hat, scarf and handbag, a woven silk hat and belt set, and a printed georgette hat and scarf set, the hat trimmed with the material of the scarf.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

by James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitagraph Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Baree was a son of Kazan and Gray Wolf, the latter the mother, a full-blooded wolf. Gray Wolf had lost her sight in a fight with a lynx. During the mothering-time she kept Kazan away from their offspring and it was a great day for Baree when he discovered his father. He was then eighteen days old. After that he ventured out from the windfall in which he had been, and, finding himself in the sunlight, had his first great adventure.

In a way Baree sensed this. He was not afraid of the owls. He was not afraid of the strange blood-curdling cries they made in the black spruce-tops. But once fear entered into him, and he scurried back to his mother. It was when one of the winged hunters of the air swooped down on a snowshoe rabbit, and the squealing agony of the doomed creature set his heart thumping like a little hammer. He felt in those cries the nearness of that one ever-present tragedy of the wild—death.

This rabbit was the climax in the first chapter of Baree's education. It was as if Gray Wolf and Kazan had planned it all out, so that he might receive his first instruction in the art of killing.

The fact that Oohoomisew, the big snow-owl, had made her nest in a broken stub not far from the windfall was destined to change the whole course of Baree's life, just as the blinding of Gray Wolf had changed hers, and a man's club had changed Kazan's. The creek ran close past the stub, which had been shriven by lightning; and this stub stood in a still, dark place in the forest, surrounded by tall, black spruce and enveloped in gloom even in broad day. Many times Baree had gone to the edge of this mysterious bit of forest and had peered in curiously, and with a growing desire.

He was fully three hundred yards from the windfall when he passed Ohoomisew's stub and into a thick growth of young balsams. And there—directly in his path—crouched the monster.

With a space of two feet between them, the pup and the owlet eyed each other. In that moment, if Gray Wolf could have seen, she might have said to Baree: "Use your legs—and run!" And Oohoomisew, the old owl, might have said to Papayuchisew: "You little fool—use your wings and fly!"

They did neither—and the fight began.

Papayuchisew started it, and with a single wild yelp Baree went back in a heap, the owlet's beak fastened like a red-hot vise in the soft flesh at the end of his nose. That one yelp of surprise and pain was Baree's first and last cry in the fight. The wolf surged in him; rage and desire to kill possessed him. As Papayuchisew hung on, he made a curious hissing sound; and as Baree rolled and gnashed his teeth and fought to free himself from that amazing grip on his nose, fierce little snarls rose out of his throat.

For fully a minute Baree had no use of his jaws. Then, by accident, he wedged Papayuchisew in a crotch of a low ground-shrub, and a bit of his nose gave way. He might have run then, but instead of that he was back at the owlet like a flash. Flop went Papayuchisew on his back, and Baree buried his needle-like teeth in the bird's breast. It was like trying to bite through a pillow, the feathers were so close and thick. Deeper and deeper Baree sank his fangs, and just as they were beginning to prick the owlet's skin, Papayuchisew—jabbing a little blindly with a beak that snapped sharply every time it closed—got him by the ear.

The pain of that hold was excruciating to Baree, and he made a more desperate effort to get his teeth through his enemy's thick armour of feathers. In the struggle they rolled under the low balsams to the edge of the ravine through which ran the creek. Over the steep edge they plunged, and as they rolled and bumped to the bottom, Baree loosed his hold. Papayuchisew hung valiantly on, and when they reached the bottom he still had his grip on Baree's ear.

At this critical point, when the understanding of defeat was forming itself swiftly in Baree's mind, chance saved him. His fangs closed on one of the owlet's tender feet. Papayuchisew gave a sudden squeak. The ear was free at last—and with a snarl of triumph Baree gave a vicious tug at Papayuchisew's leg.

In the excitement of battle he had not heard the rushing tumult of the creek close under them, and over the edge of a rock Papayuchisew and he went together, the chill water of the rain-swollen stream muffling a final snarl and a final hiss of the two little fighters.

CHAPTER III

To Papayuchisew, after his first mouthful of water, the stream was almost as safe as the air, for he went sailing down it with the lightness of a gull, wondering in his slow-thinking big head why he was moving so swiftly and so pleasantly without any effort of his own.

To Baree it was a different matter. He went down almost like a stone. A mighty roaring filled his ears; it was dark, suffocating, terrible. In the swift current he was twisted over and over. For twenty feet he was under water. Then he rose to the surface and desperately began using his legs.

Suddenly Baree found himself at the edge of a deep, dark pool in which the water lay still as oil, and his heart nearly jumped out of his body when a great, sleek, shining creature sprang out from almost under his nose and landed with a tremendous splash in the centre of it. It was Nekik, the Otter.

The otter had not heard Baree,

and in another moment Napanekik, his wife, came sailing out of a patch of gloom, and behind her came three little otters, leaving behind them four shimmering wakes in the oily-looking water. What happened after that made Baree forget for a few minutes that he was lost. Nekik had disappeared under the surface, and now he came up directly under his unsuspecting mate with a force that lifted her half out of the water. Instantly he was gone again, and Napanekik took after him fiercely.

It was about three o'clock in the afternoon, and the sun should still have been well up in the sky. But it was growing darker steadily, and the strangeness and fear of it all lent greater speed to Baree's legs. He stopped every little while to listen, and at one of these intervals he heard a sound that drew from him a responsive and joyous whine. It was a distant howl—a wolf's howl—straight ahead of him. Baree was not thinking of wolves but of Kazan, and he ran through the gloom of the forest until he was winded. Then he stopped and listened a long time. The wolf-howl did not come again. Instead of it there rolled up from the west a deep and thunderous rumble. Through the treetops there flashed a vivid streak of lightning. A moaning whisper of wind rode in advance of the storm; the thunder grew nearer; and a second flash of lightning seemed searching Baree out where he stood shivering under a canopy of great spruce.

At first Baree could hardly stand. His legs were cramped; every bone in his body seemed out of joint; his ear was stiff where the blood had oozed out of it and hardened, and when he tried to wrinkle his wounded nose, he gave a sharp little yap of pain. If such a thing were possible, he looked even worse than he felt. His hair had dried in muddy patches; he was dirt-stained from end to end; and where yesterday he had been plump and shiny, he was now as thin and wretched as misfortune could possibly make him. And he was hungry. He had never before known what it meant to be really hungry.

Club Mendelssohn Discuss Verdi And "Rigoletto"

The life of Giuseppe Verdi, and the charatcer of the great composer's opera "Rigoletto" formed the subject of a most interesting address, given to the Club Mendelssohn at the home of Mrs. Schofield at Mira Vista yesterday afternoon.

The ladies wish to express their gratitude to Mr. Adolph Winters for the use of a victrola and an excellent selection of Verdi records.

The clear and lucid narrative of Mrs. L. Dicely, who delivered the main exposition was further supplemented by a rendition of Liszt's "Paraphrase Rigoletto" by Miss Myrtle Smith on the piano. The latter lady also gave an excellent interpretation of Grieg's "To Spring."

Lest it might be thought that Verdi had a monopoly on history, Mrs. G. Topping, president emeritus of the organization, gave a resume of the club's activities, which extended over a period of 21 years exactly, on the ninth day of this month.

Those of the original founders, who are still with the club and able to celebrate its coming of age, are the distinguished Mesdames Topping, Mary Dunlap, Mary Moyle.

Mrs. Sshofield is in receipt of many compliments, owing to the success of the afternoon.

Rash

That spoils beauty

Skin reddened or roughened, skin with eczema. Skin with pimples or blotches. People who suffer simply don't know what science has done to correct it.

There is a new way, based on decades of skin study. It brings instant relief, healing starts at once, complete results come so quickly they often seem magical.

Sulphur is one great factor. Probably no better way will ever be found to deal with skin parasites. But a new combination brings multiplied effects.

The new way is called Mentho-Sulphur. Discomfort ends the moment you apply it. In a few hours the healing shows. And countless people are amazed to see how quickly the entire trouble ends.

Use this new-day method. Just ask your druggist for a jar of Rowles Mentho-sulphur. You will learn that skin troubles can be removed almost as easily as dirt.

R. W. Gilbert Named Supply Store Manager

Conveniently located for motorists of Richmond, the Western Auto Supply company will open its doors Friday evening to motorists of this district, under the direction of R. W. Gilbert.

Gilbert recently moved to Richmond to assume the management of this newest Western Auto store. He was formerly associated with the company at the Oakland main store where he spent over a year learning the duties of a store manager.

He has had years of experience in the automobile business as well as the tires, accessory and camp goods lines. Gilbert, before affiliating with the Western Auto Supply company owned a large garage in Eureka, and is well versed on automobile troubles and their remedies.

He is very enthusiastic about the opportunities for building a successful business in Richmond. "Satisfactorily meeting the needs of car owners for merchandise and auto supplies of quality at minimum prices and the maximum of service is the foundation upon which our company has been built," says Gilbert. Pell-Mell Action, Real Thrills With Thomas Meighan in Picture At The California Theatre Today

Thomas Meighan and Lila Lee in the Paramount Picture "Coming Through"

Where you find Meighan you generally find action.

Such is the case, anyway, with "Coming Through," the latest Paramount production, coming today to the California theatre for a run of two days.

Pell-mell action and real thrills is the order of things from start to finish.

"Coming Through," is a story of coal mining and coal mines adapted to the screen by Paul Schofield from Jack Bethea's popular novel, "Bed Rock." Lila Lee is featured in the leading woman's role, Wallace Beery heads the supporting cast which also includes such prominent stage and screen players as John Miltern, F. Combeau and Laurance Wheat.

Tom's role is that of Tom Blackford employed with a big steel corporation. He is shipped off to the company's mines at Colton, just outside of Birmingham, as superintendent. Here the real action starts.

The big punch scenes in the picture include a hand-to-hand fight between Meighan and Beery on a skeleton framework about sixty feet above ground. Beery is bested and takes a "header" to a rock below. You've seen screen fights before, to be sure, but never anything that quite comes up to this.

Another breath-taker is the scene where one of the "trips" a coal car, breaks away and goes hurtling down through the mine in terrifying speed. Tom turns a switch in the nick of time, sending the car crashing into the framework of the mine and bringing down a shower of dirt and rocks from overhead but saving the lives of many of the miners. Here's the big kick in the picture.

If you're a true Meighan fan you'll be on hand early for "Coming Through."

Other features on the same program include "Low Tide" a Mermaid comedy, International News, Larry F. Canelo at the organ.

First Baseball Game Here Today

The first baseball game of the season will be played today by the Richmond Union high school against the California School for the Deaf at Berkeley. The game is merely a practice affair for the purpose of allowing Coach Ivan Hill to get a line on the ability of the candidates for the team. Hill stated yesterday that as it will be one of the least important games of the season he will not choose any particular lineup but will give all the men a chance to show their "stuff."

Firemen Challenge Policemen Here to Duel--On Diamond

The brave five fighters and the stalwart arms of the law have a prospective diamond battle looming in the offing.

A trio of firemen journeyed over to the police station yesterday and issued a challenge to the policemen to take on the team for which approximately 40 have signed up. Elmer Clark is organizing the firemen's ball tossers and together with I. S. Conrad, and J. D. Addison went in person to issue the defi.

It is believed that the police will accept the challenge and defended the honor of their department. A team has not yet been organized by the men under Chief of Police Dan Cox but to all appearances it is expected that enough recruits can be gathered to demonstrate to the firemen that they have been playing baseball.

The men from the fire station will turn out for a little practice today at the First street orchard and endeavor to get in shape for the coming conflict.

"Lucky Dan" Most Thrilling Western Film at Richmond

You are sure to go wild over "Lucky Dan" which opens a two day engagement at the Richmond theatre today.

Richard Talmadge as Dan Hadley literally falls, dives, leaps and jumps his way through five reels of the most thrilling modern western story ever filmed.

The regulartion, stereotyped cliff fight where the hero metes out a just punishment to the "heavy" is well known to all theatre-goers ut in "Lucky Dan" you will see a fight which we defy anyone to duplicate on the screen. After pushing the "heavy" over the side of a 200 foot cliff, Dan dives head first after him and they oth meet up with a thump at the ottom. A real thrill, the like of which has never been equaled.

It is against the laws of gravity for a human being to fly through space without the use of an aeroplane, but after seeing "Lucky Dan" you will agree that Richard Talmadge is a bird's only rival. He is in the air most of the time, over fences, through windows, jumping onto his horse's back—just five reels of action that flies through space.

Other features on the same program include the twelfth thrilling chapter of "The Santa Fe Trail" featuring Neva Gerber and Jack Perrin. "The Lucky Loser", an Eddie Lyons comedy completes a great bill of entertainment.

TWO FAST GAMES MARK CLOSE OF BASKET SEASON

The close of the Richmond Basketball league season was marked with two of the fastest cage games seen for a good many months on the Roosevelt gym floor, last night. The games ended with the Richmond McRackens being defeated by the Oakland Redmen with a score of 26 to 24 and the Standard Oil quintet victorious over the Pex five from Berkeley, 16 to 10.

The McRacken-Redmen tangle was a bitter struggle from start to finish and the issue was in doubt until the final minute of play. Chattleton of the McRackens was undoubtedly the luminary on his team for he rung up six baskets and showed exceptional form on the floor. However, his teammates all showed up about as equally well. Ford of the winning team probably played the best game for his five as he shot six baskets and two fouls. Knollman also showed up well for the winners.

The lineup follows:

Redmen—Knullman, Lawson, Ford, Munro, Pfister and Dyson.

McRacken—Lee Muth, Thiest, Huzefka, Chattleton, and McLaughlin.

In the second combat the Standard Oil men had a comparatively easy time in overcoming the Pex cagers. Very shortly after the beginning of the last canto the Richmond boys forged into the lead and from that time until the final whistle there was never a doubt of the outcome. A remarkable feature of this game was that there were no obvious stars, although Wright of the winners probably shaded his team mates slightly as he shot four baskets and one fowl. Both fives showed good team work and no one hoop artist could be picked from the lot.

Following is the lineup:

Standard Oil—Schreuder, Kamb, Wright, Keller, Kiraly, Paasch, and Mino.

Pex—Brigden, Ross, W. Nevin, Tocher, Hanstead, Lieser, C. Nevin, Boatwat and Heider.

High School Girls Win Over Crockett

High score of 20 to 11, the Richmond high school girls were returned the victors in their cage battle with the Crockett high school five at the local gym yesterday.

Brilliant floor work and basket shooting featured the game of the Richmond girls and they took the contest in a walk-away. The outcome of the game was never in doubt.

The local lineup included Capt. Lucille Muth, Flora Barbieri, Gertrude Carey, Alysse Clark, Elizabeth Kiraly, Eleanor Hurley, Mary Gilmore, Margaret Wright, Alice Bagley, Margaret Bryberg and, Vera Spencer.

Friday, at Berkeley, the Richmond girls will play basketball with the team from Miss Head's school.

Junior Baseball Teams Organized

The Baseball season is now in full swing at the Roosevelt Junior high school. With the starting of practice yesterday, three teams were organized, a first, second and light weight team. The baseball games at the school are to be under the direction of Coach G. D. Miner, who reports that the boys turned out in good shape and that he has great prospects of turning out a winning aggregation.

LOCAL RADIO CLUB DISCUSSES BATTERIES

At a meeting of the Richmond Radio club last night battery chargers of all description were discussed. The Tringer was given the highest vote of the assembly.

J. Findley talked on induction and brought out much subsequent discussion.

The next meeting of the organization will be for business but after this has been concluded a review of magnetism and induction will be participated in by all members.

Members in arrear with their dues are requested to catch up the same since the club wishes to buy some much needed experimental equipment.

POLICE DRILLS CONTINUED

As a result of the excellent impression made by the Richmond Police in their annual drill aoout three weeks ago, the department members will continue their drill the first of next month, according to Chief Dan Cox. The drills will probably be gone through on Saturday afternoon.

Making the Dirt Fly at the Upper San Leandro Dam

The Diversion Dam is in. The Diversion Tunnel to Lake Chabot has been completed together with its Outlet Tower. Far beneath the hills, the day and night crews driving the Supply Tunnel from both ends are approaching each other. Sluicing on the main dam is being pushed.

There, briefly, you have a sketchy picture of the humming hive of men and machines resolved to have an additional supply of water ready for you by the time it is needed.

Every phase of the Upper San Leandro Project is receiving the close attention of the officers and directors of this Company to the end that economy and speed may go hand in hand. When completed, it will represent the investment of approximately $3,000,000 and its capacity of 16,374,000,000 gallons will increase the storage facilities eighty-five per cent.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In reciprocation of the wonderful cure effected through the medium of Dr. Wong Him's herbs and his thorough knowledge of every human ailment, I desire to state briefly the terrible sufferings experienced by myself for other thirty years, thus guiding anyone who may desire relief from attacks of any nature:

I had been afflicted with cancer and Bright's Disease, also catarrah of the head for a period of over thirty years. Learning of the extraordinary cures resulting from the herb treatments of Dr. Wong Him. I decided to seek relief it possible through this course, being to some extent skeptical, due to failures of other eminent specialists to effect any amount of relief.

A complete treatment of the above herbs have resulted in relieving me entirely of these affliction and my head has been cleared of all traces of catarrh. Pains in back and headaches have ceased and am again able to enjoy perfect health.

The above has been absolutely unsolicited and my only home is that same may prove of great benefit to all sufferers who may read it.

Craved Excitement And Got it in Film At Wesley Church

In the role of Dudley Ainsworth in his newest of films, "The Yankee Consul," showing at the Wesley M. E. church tonight, Douglas MacLean has a role that is entirely different from any that he has ever played.

He doesn't eat—he don't sleep, the trouble is, all his friends are worried about the rich young Mr. Ainsworth. One of his pals got him excited about his health, and although no Ainsworth had done any work for seven generations, young Dudley was induced to take a job. He became a ticket seller but he didn't finish because a series of highly exciting events changed the whole complexion of things.

He craved excitement and he got it. He get so much of it that there is no end of thrills and comedy situations in "The Yankee Consul."

"The Yankee Consul will be shown at the church at the corner of Ninth and Nevin tonight at 7:15. The usual Friday family night program of songs will precede the picture.

The third degree was conferred upon a class of candidates in McKinley lodge, No. 347, F. and A. M. at the Masonic temple last night. Frank Tiller acted as master during the evening. The Barrel House team of the Standard Oil company did the drill work. After the ceremonies in connection with the lodge session a sumptuous banquet was served. E. L. Others on the banquet committee were Kenneth R. Leam, chairman; George Edwards L. Phillips, U. J. Sennett and R. W. Walker.

Mrs. J. E. Washburn, state vice-president of the National association of War Mothers, together with Mrs. A. B. Cole, state correspondent of the same organization, visited the Oakland chapter of the order yesterday afternoon for ceremonies of installing of officers. They enjoyed a most pleasant time of a social nature after the business was conducted.

Onetah Council Of Pocahontas Business Meeting

The Onetah Council, No. 96, Degree of Pocahontas, held their regular business session at the Redmen's hall last night, with Pocahontas Josie Neville at the stump.

Tentative plans were layed for a whist to be held by the lodge some time in the near future. Miss Ann Sullivan was appointed as chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, but she has not yet selected her assistants, nor has the date of the party been decided upon.

Final plans were also made last night for the Southern dinner to be given by the Past Pocohontas club on March 5, at Redmen's hall. The dinner will be put on by all Past Pocahontases and they will be headed by Mrs. Violet Green.

A large body from the Onetah council attended the Crockett lodge last night at 7:30 o'clock where the official visit was being held.

On Thursday, March 5, the drill team of the Onetah Council will hold a practice after the regular meeting for the coming initiation.
